NOTES

DESCRIPTION

If you are looking for the perfect location where you are in the hub of a small vibrant town, this is the one for you.

The ground floor of the house has plenty of storage with a garage that has internal access to the house, workshop area and a utility which houses the heat pump central heating system.

The first floor has been extended into the garden and now houses a kitchen/dining area and lounge which then flows out into the sun baked garden. Great for that all important indoor/outdoor flow for entertaining friends and family.

The property contains four bedrooms in total and a family bathroom with separate WC. Two of the large bedrooms already contain shower facilities so they could easily be made into en-suites with the addition of a privacy wall.

The house is connected to mains drains and the windows are have been replaced with double glazing. All the expensive works look to have been completed here.

Le Dorat is a vibrant village with a choice of restaurants and café's, boutique shops, weekly village market, supermarket and schools. In the summer months the evening Farmers Market is a great community event where locals and tourists gather to share a meal and listen to the live music.

It's a great place to be if you are looking for that small town community that has a real pulse!

Le Dorat has its own train station with trains to Poitiers and further to Bordeaux or Paris, or you are just...
