NOTES

DESCRIPTION

This property, steeped in history, was once part of the thriving linen industry of the region, now mostly converted, this row of low barns now forms a delightful street near the centre of this charming village on the river Orb.

The property itself backs onto a cul-de-sac with parking which looks out onto a wooded area.

At the street level, the bright hallway leads through a door to the right into the garage and a well lit studio/workshop. A stairway leads directly to the main living space, which is a large open plan area accommodating the Kitchen with island, dining area and living room. Two large french doors open to a balcony overlooking the wooded area at the back of the house. On this floor is a large bathroom with separate toilet and the master bedroom.

One flight up is the top floor of the house with three large bedrooms and shower-room with toilet.
