IN BRIEF

In the heart of the Quercy Blanc countryside, just minutes from Montcuq, Lauzerte, and Castelnau-Montratier, this enchanting former water mill estate offers the perfect blend of historic charm and modern comfort. The beautifully restored 17th-century miller's house provides approx. 150 m² of refined living space, while the original mill, largely untouched, offers exciting potential. Set on 1.8 hectares of private land with woodland and meadows, the property includes a stone barn with office, an outbuilding with summer kitchen, carport, and more. A tranquil mill stream flows through the grounds, adding to the peaceful, bucolic atmosphere. With its authentic stone architecture and unspoiled setting, this is a rare opportunity to own a piece of French rural heritage—ideal as a permanent residence, luxurious retreat, or guest property.
