DESCRIPTION

Located in one of the most beautiful villages in the Limousin region, this 19th-century bourgeois house, steeped in history and once owned by a notable lady of the area, offers a peaceful and charming living environment in the heart of exceptional natural surroundings. It has retained its original features: gazette tile floors, stone fireplaces, vaulted cellar, bread oven...

Ideally situated in Solignac, a charming medieval village known for its still-inhabited 7th-century abbey, this property lies along the Saint James' Way (Camino de Santiago), on the banks of a river and just 10 minutes from Limoges.
