DESCRIPTION

Please contact me for more photographs.

This wonderful home is on the edge of a lovely village in the Hautes-Pyrenees with super views of the mountains, the wood and garden – the house is surrounded by land where horses graze.

There is a separate driveway that winds through the garden to the front of the property.

This original 'Maison de Maitre' (214 m²) has been beautifully renovated and has accommodation on 3 different levels as follows:

GROUND FLOOR

As you enter you find yourself in the vestibule leading into the entrance hallway with original tiles and the original elegant wooden staircase leading to the upper floors (approximately 13 m²). Under the stairs is a useful storage cupboard.

Doors from the hallway open into the:

Living Room (approx. 31 m²)

This is such a bright and welcoming room with a mixture of original wooden floorboards and tiles. The large fireplace with a Godin wood-burning stove is the main focal point of the room and the owners have kept the old sink and 2 original cupboards and incorporated them into the stylish décor. There is a beamed ceiling and a door leading into the garden at the rear.

Lounge-Dining area (approx. 20 m²)

Across the hallway from the living room is the library with original wooden floorboards, wall panels and a stunning fireplace made from local marble.

Kitchen/Dining Area (approx. 14 m²)
