Tucked behind a stone archway, at the heart of a courtyard surrounded by old buildings, this elegant maison de maître is full of charm.

The main house features a central hallway leading to two symmetrical reception rooms. Upstairs mirrors the same layout with two spacious bedrooms and a shower room. The attic, accessible by stairs, offers great conversion potential thanks to its generous headroom. Each room measures around 35 m², giving the property a wonderful sense of space.

In front, the courtyard is framed by various outbuildings: a large barn with concrete floor, a hangar, former stables, a workshop, and more. A private garden sits behind the house.

Also included: a second house to renovate with independent access and a plot of land located opposite ; ideal for a range of future projects.
