IN BRIEF

This beautifully restored four-bedroom property, dating back to the 1600s, is ideally located in the heart of the vibrant town of Saint-Séverin, on the Charente–Dordogne border. Featuring exposed stone walls, original wooden floors, and double glazing throughout, the house seamlessly blends historic character with modern comfort.

An early viewing is highly recommended to fully appreciate the charm and quality of this exceptional home.

The property is set within the thriving village of Saint-Séverin, which offers a wide range of amenities all within walking distance, including restaurants, a medical centre, pharmacy, bank, post office, supermarket, newsagent, hairdresser, and primary school. The beautifully restored church regularly hosts concerts, and the surrounding countryside provides excellent opportunities for walking and outdoor pursuits.

DESCRIPTION

Upon entering through the spacious HALL (19 m²), the impressive layout of the property is immediately apparent. To the right lies a substantial LOUNGE (40 m²), formerly a hardware shop, now a striking living space filled with natural light from three large windows. This room retains its original wooden floors and features both an open fireplace and a wood burner, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere.

To the left of the hall is an elegant DINING ROOM (29 m²), equipped with a 9 kW pellet burner. French doors open onto a small terrace, ideal for enjoying morning coffee. Adjacent to the dining area and separated by a breakfast bar is the well-appointed KITCHEN (22 m²), offering ample work surfaces and storage. A log burner set within an attractive stone fireplace adds further character, while French doors provide direct access to a covered terrace, perfect for outdoor dining and entertaining. This level is completed by a TOILET (1 m²) and a compact UTILITY ROOM (1.2 m²).
