NOTES

DESCRIPTION

This charming stone-built property with terracotta tiled roofs couldn't be more traditionally French. With two sets of double gates and private off-road parking for several cars, it offers both character and convenience.

Although basically habitable, the property remains a renovation project, with several major improvements already completed — including a new gas central heating system, double glazing, and an insulated attic roof. The property is connected to mains water and electricity.

Ground Floor

The entrance opens into a spacious living room (5 l m^2) with a fireplace and wood-burning stove, tiled floors, and exposed beams. This leads through to a kitchen (28 m^2) with ample space for a dining table and chairs.

A basic shower room and WC are accessed from this area.

Also on the ground floor is an annexe room (27 m²), currently used as a gym. With some reconfiguration, it could easily serve as a study, guest bedroom, or second living room.

First Floor

A landing area (13 m^2) leads to a bathroom (4.5 m^2) with bath, sink, and WC, and to a double bedroom (18 m^2).

Attic

A staircase leads to the attic space (40 m²) — ideal for conversion into a master suite, showcasing the original A-frame beams and high rafters.

Outbuildings and Exterior

Attached to the main house is a two-storey barn of
