DESCRIPTION

Enjoy a studio in the "Le Sextant" residence which is bright and airy with a newly fitted kitchen bringing a clean and modern style to the living area (13.54m²). The large sofa converts into a very comfortable double bed with views of the Mont Blanc mountain range and the two armchairs mean that all four guests can enjoy the living space with plenty of space to relax.

The dining table seats four people easily and the floor to ceiling storage cupboards in the corridor mean that the living area feels spacious and airy.

Need to soak those tired ski legs? The bath is the place for relaxing in after putting in the turns on the piste all day. Always nice to have the option of a bath or a shower!

If there are four adults staying in the accommodation then they will be thrilled that the bunkbeds are not just meant for children. Well-built with individual lights and extra shelving and storage means that this "coin montagne" is more than somewhere for the kids to sleep.

There is a ski locker in the residence but the current owners like to leave their skis and boots with one of the ski shops so they can walk to the village centre (about a 5 minute walk from the residence) and put their ski boots on in the warmth of the shop. The nearest piste stops about 100m above the accommodation so it is possible to almost ski to...
