DESCRIPTION

An Unrivaled Alpine Masterpiece in Sainte Foy Tarentaise

In the heart of the "Jewel of the Tarentaise" lies a residence that redefines the boutique mountain lifestyle. Sainte Foy is celebrated for its preservation of Savoyard tradition, and this chalet stands as the pinnacle of that heritage. Built with a meticulous eye for detail and a commitment to authenticity, the home is crafted entirely from locally sourced old wood, harmonizing perfectly with the stone-clad facades and snow-capped peaks of this historic station.

The experience begins at the entrance level, where convenience meets luxury. Two covered parking spaces and extensive owners' storage flank a grand hallway, which houses a private lift serving every floor. For the skiing enthusiast, the state-of-the-art ski room is situated just meters from the piste, complete with a dedicated cloakroom and heated boot warmers. This level also features a private gym, ensuring wellness is integrated into the daily routine.

Ascending the chalet reveals a layout designed for both privacy and social connection. The first floor opens directly onto the communal square and terrace areas, bridging the gap between the private sanctuary and the village atmosphere. Here, a hidden door reveals a private office for those seeking a quiet workspace, while a cozy snug serves as a television room or an additional bedroom. Two en-suite guest rooms are masterfully designed with double beds and bespoke built-in bunks, offering sophisticated flexibility for families. A fully fitted, hidden laundry room ensures the practicalities of mountain life are kept...
