DESCRIPTION

Set on two separate parcels of land, this attractive ensemble offers both immediate comfort and exciting development potential.

The property is situated in a peaceful hamlet, just a short distance from the village of Langourla, offering a perfect balance between countryside tranquillity and everyday convenience. Langourla is a friendly and welcoming village with a small selection of amenities including a bar with convenience shop, a restaurant, a post office, and two primary schools. A school bus service also provides easy access to nearby secondary schools.

The village is appreciated for its community spirit and hosts regular events throughout the year, including its popular summer Jazz festival. Surrounded by rolling Breton countryside, the area is ideal for walking, cycling, and enjoying a relaxed rural lifestyle, while still being within easy reach of larger towns for additional services.

The main house, a characterful south-facing stone property, presents very well. On the ground floor, a spacious reception room with an open fireplace provides a warm and inviting living space, ideal for installing a wood burner. The well-proportioned kitchen offers direct access to the rear garden. The entire ground floor benefits from attractive wooden flooring and has the old original wooden staircase.

Upstairs, the first floor comprises three good-sized bedrooms, a family bathroom with WC, and an additional shower room. The second floor features a large bedroom, a smaller room currently used as an office (which could serve as a fifth bedroom), and a further shower room with WC.
