DESCRIPTION

This fully renovated, belle époque townhouse is located in the sought-after coastal area of Le Trayas, perfectly positioned between Cannes and Saint-Raphaël. It offers an ideal combination of sea views, outdoor space and low-maintenance living - making it particularly well suited to foreign buyers looking for a reliable and easy-to-manage second home on the Côte d'Azur.

The property is set within the Estérel massif, a protected natural area designated as a Natura 2000 zone. This European classification is designed to preserve areas of outstanding natural beauty and ecological importance. In practical terms, it means that the surrounding landscape is protected from overdevelopment - offering long-term peace, privacy and the reassurance that the environment you see today will remain largely unchanged in the future.

The house itself is arranged over two levels.

On the ground floor, you will find two comfortable bedrooms, a bathroom, a separate shower room, a WC and a laundry room. This level is ideal for hosting family or guests, with a practical and well-thought-out layout.

Upstairs, the main living area is bright and welcoming, with large windows that bring in natural light and offer pleasant open views towards the sea and surrounding greenery. The open-plan kitchen and living space have been designed in a clean, contemporary style, creating a sociable and easy-to-live-in environment.

From here, doors open directly onto the terrace. This is the perfect spot for morning coffee, relaxed lunches or evening drinks, with a view of the Mediterranean and a peaceful atmosphere that reflects...
