DESCRIPTION

Set in an exceptionally private and tranquil position at the end of its own lane, this remarkable 15th-century manoir estate extends across more than 24 hectares of beautiful Normandy countryside, complete with river frontage, two picturesque lakes, and an array of character buildings offering outstanding lifestyle and commercial potential.

Steeped in history and charm, the principal manoir offers approximately 297m² of habitable accommodation and is currently arranged into three separate living areas, providing a total of eight bedrooms and three bathrooms. Full of character and original features with scope to alter the layout.

Complementing the manor house is an impressive stone-built gîte of approximately 400m² of habitable space, perfectly equipped for hospitality or events. The accommodation includes eight ensuite bedrooms, two of which are accessed externally to the rear, two magnificent banqueting halls of approximately 100m² each, a professional commercial kitchen, and separate guest toilet facilities — making it ideally suited for weddings, retreats, corporate events, or holiday accommodation.

Further enhancing the estate is a charming stone former bread oven building, which previously operated as a successful restaurant seating around thirty guests, complete with its own small kitchen and approximately 40m² of usable space. A separate stone cider production building of 53m², together with a 35m² lean-to, has until recently supported a thriving cider and Calvados business, offering exciting opportunities for artisanal production or agritourism ventures.

To the rear of the manoir, the estate also benefits from a 24-pitch campsite with dedicated shower and toilet facilities of...
