DESCRIPTION

Once there was an empty barn in a peaceful hamlet, on top of the hill and with a beautiful view. It was sold to a couple with a vision and turned into a magnificent house. Using high quality materials, the building has now got 4 large french doors on two sides where the arched doorways were: three giving access to the garden and one as a main entrance on the side. The large living area offers plenty of room: a cozy lounge area with the tiled log burner, an open office and the dining area which naturally flows into the open plan kitchen. There is a boiler room in the back of the house with the pellet boiler and workshop attached. The workshop also gives access to the hangar for the cars and lawn mower. Upstairs you will find a second sitting area overlooking the garden and three large bedrooms from which one is the master bedroom with a spacious bathroom with a shower, wash basin, his&hers wardrobes and toilet. A second bathroom is shared by the two bedrooms. The attic can be converted into more habitable space if needed. The garden is large and flat, offering a marvellous unspoiled view over the Correzean countryside. The well close to the house is there to water the garden. The village of Corrèze is at 10 minutes by car and offers the basic facilities and bars and restaurants.
