DESCRIPTION

Behind its attractive stone façade and traditional shutters lies a home that has been thoughtfully renovated to combine authentic Quercy character with modern comfort. Tastefully decorated throughout, the property successfully blends exposed stonework and traditional features with contemporary styling, creating a welcoming home ready to enjoy immediately.

The ground floor centres around a spacious open-plan kitchen and living area of approximately 32.5 m². Filled with natural light, this sociable room forms the heart of the house and provides an ideal setting for both everyday living and entertaining. The fitted kitchen integrates seamlessly with the dining and living areas, whilst exposed stone walls add warmth and character.

Taking pride of place is an attractive pellet-burning range cooker, providing economical and environmentally friendly heating whilst creating a cosy focal point during the cooler months. Combined with the property's reversible air conditioning system, which serves the accommodation, the house offers comfortable year-round living whatever the season.

A modern shower room incorporating laundry facilities and a separate WC complete the ground floor accommodation.

To the rear of the property is a substantial cellier/store room of approximately 11.4 m². Currently used for storage and workshop space, this versatile room presents exciting potential for conversion into a ground-floor bedroom suite, subject to any necessary permissions. This flexibility offers particular appeal to downsizers, retirees or those looking to future-proof the property.

The private courtyard terrace extends the living space outdoors and provides a sheltered and intimate setting for morning coffee, outdoor dining
