NOTES

DESCRIPTION

The property is a large 1970s build offering a fantastic country feel while within the thriving medieval town of Semur-en-Auxois, boasting bars, restaurants, artisan shops and all necessary amenities within walking distance.

The layout of this property lends itself to either a large family home or a smaller family home with fantastic Airbnb potential as the downstairs has its own entrance from a gate from the road and its own side door with immediate access to the garden all the way down to the river.

As you walk in from road level you are greeted with a tiled hallway leading into an extremely spacious L-Shaped, double aspect lounge/diner offering views over the valley from the balcony accessed via the French doors. For the winter there is a wood-burning stove insert within the fireplace and gas central heating throughout.

Along the corridor you will find a tiled WC and separate shower room with a walk-in shower.

Opposite these you will find a solid-wood kitchen boasting both a breakfast bar and a covered terrace for eating al-fresco regardless of the weather.

The following two rooms are the bedrooms; offering the opportunity of two rooms that currently contain furniture and fitted cupboards that can be removed to make them ample size for one generous double room and one small double rooms.

Beyond the bedrooms is the indoor access to the garage which offers access to a loft which runs the full length and width of the house.
